Mayor's Message

Once again summer is upon us and we are looking forward to our concerts and activities in our parks and Chesterfield Amphitheater. I know our parks staff will have several top notch bookings for your enjoyment. I hope to see many of you out to relax and enjoy!

CHESTERFIELD MALL

In case you hadn't heard, bids were recently sought for the purchase of Chesterfield Mall, exclusive of Macy's and Dillard's. The Staenberg Group has purchased the Sears building and will lease back to Sears until next year. As of this writing, we think the date for receiving offers for the mall may be extended in order to solicit best and final offers. We anticipate there would be a short due diligence period followed by closing on the purchase. Ultimately, we anticipate a major redevelopment into a mixed use concept that may have residential, office, restaurants, and a lesser retail presence.

SALES TAX LITIGATION UPDATE

It has been three and a half years since we filed our constitutional challenge to the St. Louis County Pool Tax statute. Although we achieved a modest victory in modifying the distribution statute two years ago, we were more or less forced by our opponents to continue our legal challenge to this "special law." After being denied summary judgement in a lower court, we are now appealing to the Missouri Supreme Court. We are encouraged by the legal theories argued in the brief being filed by our current counsel, which then requires us to consider what a judicial victory may look like. For example, if the Missouri Statute 66.600 is ruled unconstitutional, the county-wide pool tax may be invalidated, but the municipalities that had an approved municipal sales tax prior to 1977 would again be authorized to collect this tax. Other municipalities, like Chesterfield would be authorized to put on a ballot for voter approval a municipal sales tax that would replace the previously existing unconstitutional pool tax. If this were to occur, we would likely experience a significant shortfall in revenues until such time we can obtain voter approval of this replacement tax. This is a critical judgement and decision for our city as this stream of revenue is our single largest source. We do have sufficient reserves to get us through this temporary period until a replacement tax is approved, and our reserves can be replenished fairly quickly.

Although there would be some degree of fear and concern, we strongly believe that our community as well as municipalities throughout the county will be stronger and much better off in the long run. This tax that has existed since 1977 is so onerous, disproportionate, and fundamentally unfair that it is no wonder it may be deemed "unconstitutional."

It may seem premature to begin talking about requesting approval of a municipal tax that would replace the county-wide pool tax, but it takes time to educate the voters on this complicated and important issue. If legal, I would think it preferable to seek a contingent approval prior to a final court decision that would take effect or activate only if the existing tax were struck down. This would avoid or shorten a period of reduced revenues that are needed to pay for the municipal services provided. Thank you for your attention and interest in this vitally important matter!!!

I look forward to seeing you out and about,

Respectfully,

Bob Nation

Ms. Rosie Bergh named Chesterfield Citizen of the Year

Chesterfield greatly benefits from the many volunteers who support others throughout the City. Each year a citizen is selected from many submissions and is recognized as the Chesterfield Citizen of the Year. The Citizen of the Year is selected for their benefit to the City of Chesterfield through volunteerism, working on community projects and contributing to overall civic groups.

On Monday, March 19, the Chesterfield Mayor and City Council honored Rosie Bergh as the 2017 Chesterfield Citizen of the Year at the Council meeting beginning at 7 p.m. Many supporters attended, honoring Ms. Bergh for her many contributions.

A Citizens Selection Committee presented their recommendation to the Mayor, City Administrator and City Council following their review of several worthy nominations including: Doris Frazier, Terry Benda, Janis Silvestein, Giridhar Sriperumbudoor (Gary Budoor) and Jeanne Clauson.

"There were several citizens nominated who are reaching others within their subdivisions to bring us together. I am extremely pleased to announce that Rosie Bergh is Citizen of the Year for Chesterfield," stated Mayor Bob Nation. "Her desire to volunteer by serving many hours in the community and her encouragement for each person she encounters, make us proud to have her in our city"

Ms. Bergh has volunteered with multiple groups including the Parkway School District, St. Luke's Hospital, St. John's United Church of Christ (UCC) and many other civic organizations.

Since Ms. Bergh's early years as a Chesterfield citizen, she has been an active member at St. John's UCC Church. She supports the pastors and mission of the church through family dinners, youth programs and many other activities. Her interest in photography helped the church capture the activities and historical areas of Chesterfield, before and after incorporation.

When her children were in school, she would often volunteer for events at the Parkway School District. She continues volunteering for educational programs in other capacities and for the last two years, has assisted Dr. Richard Overfelt with an advanced program for teachers. Ms. Bergh helped locate Chesterfield residents who were former students taught in a one room school room.

Currently, Ms. Bergh also volunteers at St. Luke's Hospital where she helps with clerical duties in the Cardiac Rehab department. She has logged more than 3,000 volunteer hours at St. Luke's.

She also volunteers at local nursing homes, providing special attention to patients with few or no family members that are able to visit. The patients greatly benefit from her warmth and encouragement.

Bow hunting collaboration aims to keep local deer populations low

The City of Chesterfield is flush with beautiful parks, walking/biking trails, large residential lots, and heavily wooded subdivision common grounds. Wildlife abounds in these areas. Many residents point to the natural areas and wildlife as one of the most attractive aspects of our community. While pleasing to the eye and treasured by many, they can also prove to be a headache and nuisance for others: especially the wildlife, and particularly the deer which often tend to be destructive to lawns, shrubbery, and gardens, not to mention the serious problem of auto crashes on our roadways involving deer. These problems are only exacerbated as the habitats of these beautiful creatures continue to shrink.

The problem the City faces is trying to establish a reasonable balance between the residents of the City and the wildlife, and again, the deer population in particular. In December of 2006, the City enacted an ordinance allowing for the harvesting of deer and a culling of the herds through a property owner and certified bow hunters collaboration. Since the inception of this program in 2006, some 353 deer have been harvested by bow hunters. In 2016, the minimum property size to qualify for bow hunting was reduced to ½ acre, to encourage additional property owner participation. In 2017, a concentrated effort was initiated to communicate with subdivision trustees to encourage them to authorize and permit hunting on their common ground areas. In spite of these efforts, the problems experienced by residents and motorists continue as the deer population continues to grow.

It should be noted however, any efforts by the City to control the deer population must be carried out in conformity and compliance with the Rules and Regulations as established by the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC), including the total number of deer which may be harvested. The allowable harvest depends on the deer population and the number of deer per square mile. In order to determine the deer density and to assist the City in identifying available options for deer population control measures, the City recently contracted with “White Buffalo Inc.” of East Haddam, Connecticut to perform a “Deer Distance Sampling Population Estimate.” White Buffalo is a company dedicated to conserving native species and ecosystems through research, education and management programs. As one might expect, deer population estimates as determined by the study, depended upon and varied rather dramatically across the City, from 14 to 40 deer per square mile by “zone” as established and reported by White Buffalo Inc. Those areas within the City with more open undeveloped space, of course, had the greatest population of deer. This Deer Distance Sampling Population Estimate has now been completed and the report has been shared with the Missouri Department of Conservation.

Using the Distance Sampling Zone maps provided by White Buffalo, Inc. City Staff has been directed to identify specific areas which would provide the most effective opportunities that are most appropriate for harvesting deer. Land owners in these areas will then be contacted in hopes that they may be willing to participate in the City’s Bow Hunting program. Concurrently, City Staff will be meeting with the MDC to determine, based on the results of the White Buffalo study, what other deer management methods, such as “controlled shoots”, or, “bait and shoot” tactics might be appropriate and permitted by MDC. Such permits may be issued by MDC to cull deer outside of the normal hunting season. That information and any and all recommended proposals will then be brought before the City’s Public Health and Safety Committee of Council for their review and consideration.

Meanwhile, the City will continue to encourage property owners to participate in the Bow Hunting program. Any property owner with at least ½ acre of land (adjoining parcels may be combined to make up the ½ acre requirement) is eligible to participate. Interested property owners are encouraged to contact the Police Department at 636-537-3000, to add their property to the list of available hunting properties. The Police Department maintains a list of certified bow hunters ready and anxious to hunt the properties. The bow hunters are responsible to contact each property owner individually and personally to gain permission and access. Likewise, all subdivision trustees are strongly encouraged to continue to promote the bow hunting program for their common grounds.

Let’s work together! We are confident that the combined efforts of the City and the continuing participation of the residents/property owners will result in an successful effort to control the deer population in Chesterfield!

For more information, contact the Chesterfield Police Department at 636-537-3000.

2018 Concrete Slab Replacement Program Summer projects

2018 Concrete Slab Replacement Program: Two concrete slab replacement projects are expected to be completed in 2018. These projects will involve the replacement of 32,000 square yards of concrete slabs on eleven different residential streets. Residents adjacent to the planned replacement areas, along with subdivision trustees, will receive project notification by mail. The streets scheduled for slab replacement are listed below:

Countryside Manor Parkway, Coventry Farm Court, Coventry Farm Drive, Coventry Glen Court, Ladue Farm Road, Millbriar Circle, Millchester Circle, River Bend Drive, Schoettler Valley Drive, Shady Valley Drive, Westernmill Drive

Wilson Avenue Culvert Replacement: The one lane culvert on Wilson Avenue was failing and is being replaced with a two lane culvert. This project is currently being constructed, with an estimated completion date of August 1, 2018. One lane of traffic will remain open throughout construction.

Schoettler Road Bridge: The City of Chesterfield makes every effort to obtain grant monies when available. Most recently, the City used grant funding to overlay Edison Avenue, to construct a new pedestrian bridge on Chesterfield Parkway East, and to reconstruct the Timberlake Manor Bridge, Ladue Road, Appalachian Trail, and Greentrails South Drive. In addition to the projects described above, the City of Chesterfield has secured grant funding for the replacement of the Schoettler Road Bridge. That project is currently under construction, with an anticipated completion date of July 1, 2018. The grant obtained will fund approximately $1.6 million of the estimated $2.0 million project cost.

Other Projects: The City of Chesterfield maintains 176 miles of public roads and over 260 miles of sidewalk. However, there are several roads in the City limits which are either private or maintained by other agencies. For example, the Missouri Department of Transportation maintains I-64, Olive / Clarkson, Boone's Crossing, Long Road, and parts of Wild Horse Creek Road. St. Louis County maintains Chesterfield Parkway, Baxter Road, White Road, Kehrs Mill Road, Chesterfield Airport Road, parts of Wild Horse Creek Road, and several other roadways. As you may already know, St. Louis County is currently in the process of improving Chesterfield Parkway West from I-64 to Olive (RGA to Charlie Gittos). St. Louis County also has plans to improve Baxter Road (Clarkson to Summer Ridge) and Kehrs Mill Road (southeast of Clarkson). Additionally, MODOT will soon be constructing improvements to Olive Boulevard from I-64 to Chesterfield Parkway (Charlie Gittos). Additional information on these projects can be obtained by contacting the St. Louis County Department of Transportation or the Missouri Department of Transportation.

Residential Information Portal is a useful tool for residents

Did you know that there is a quick and simple way to access important information about your property? The Resident Information Portal is a valuable resource that provides information on your property, such as ownership and subdivision information. To access the Resident Information Portal, visit the City's website, and under the "Residents" header, click "Resident Information Portal." To use the Portal, you will need to enter either a parcel number or your address. Please note that you should use abbreviations for the street suffix. If you are unsure, leave off the suffix entirely, and the search will still match based on the street name.

The Resident Information Portal allows you to view a multitude of information regarding your property. For instance, you can view what fire and school districts your property is located in. The Portal also displays ownership information, including assessed property values, prior sales, and dwelling information. You can even view what day your trash picks up!

The Portal also provides information on your subdivision. Do you need to consult a subdivision trustee about your upcoming pool or deck project? The Portal lists your subdivision trustees and their contact information. Are you curious about the zoning of your subdivision or property in general? The Resident Information Portal provides zoning information, along with subdivision plats, ward maps, and display plats.

The Resident Information Portal is a useful tool to gain information on your property. As always, the Planner-of-the-Day will always be happy to answer any planning related questions that you may have regarding your property. Resident input needed for Parks, Recreation & Arts Master Plan

Chesterfield Parks, Recreation and Arts Department is in the middle of developing a comprehensive master plan. What does this mean? A master plan engages the community, leadership and stakeholders through innovative public input means to build a shared vision for parks, recreation programs, and facilities in the City of Chesterfield for the next ten years or more. It utilizes a wide variety of data sources and best practices to predict trends and patterns of use and how to address unmet needs for the City of Chesterfield. A master plan shapes financial and operational preparedness through innovative and 'next' practices to achieve the strategic objectives and recommended actions. It also determines the unique level of service standards to develop appropriate actions regarding parks, recreation programs, and facilities that reflects the Department's strong commitment in providing high quality recreational activities for the community. And finally, it develops a dynamic and realistic strategic action plan that creates a road map to ensure long term success and financial sustainability for the Department's parks, recreation programs, and facilities, as well as action steps to support the family oriented community and businesses that call Chesterfield home.

The time invested in this meeting and through other outlets, such as mailed surveys and surveys given at Chesterfield events, will be utilized in making decisions that will enrich the future of the community. This will also positively affect the lives of residents, their children, and generations to come. Please take the opportunity through one of these outlets to let your voice be heard and check the website for updates.

Eagle Scout to build garden at CVAC

In order to obtain the rank of Eagle Scout, the scout must complete an Eagle Scout Project. This project must demonstrate leadership while also benefitting the community. Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex will soon be the beneficiary of one of these projects.

Eagle Scout Charlie Wight, of Marquette High School, has chosen to build a Monarch and Pollinator Garden at CVAC as his Eagle Scout project. "I chose to do a Monarch Bee Pollinator Garden to help improve an area that has never been previously thought of before for a project, as well as giving a habitat to spread awareness for one of the fastest dying insects in the United States. - the bee. Since this garden will not only be a dwelling for the bees however, I hope that the project will provide a relatively stable area over time that people can visit and demonstrate the ability of green spaces such as this to benefit the surrounding ecosystem for years to come." says Wight.

Wight has a fundraising goal of $1,500 that will allow the project to happen and will soon have a gofundme that will help make this project a reality. You can follow his progress or help with donations at his Facebook page Go4Pollinators. You can visit the page at facebook.com/PollinatorsRus.

Sachs Properties, Inc. makes Community Garden move possible

Chesterfield's two Community Gardens provide centrally located plant beds for Chesterfield residents to grow, nurture and harvest plants locally. The gardens have been a popular success since their beginning, resulting in a consistent waitlist of eager gardeners. One community garden found its home at Eberwein Park, next to the Dog Park. The second community garden once called the area of land to the west of Bishop's Post on Chesterfield Pkwy. home. This past fall/winter, the land the garden took root in was sold, resulting in a need for a new home. Sachs Properties, Inc. generously offered land on loan to the City for the relocation of the garden. Chesterfield Parks, Recreation and Arts maintenance crew got to work, and successfully transferred the garden to its new quarters, and both gardens opened this May. Stop by to see what's growing! To be placed on the Community Garden plot waitlist, call the Parks, Recreation and Arts office at 636.812.9500.

Grab your bike and make a difference

This September 29 and 30, Pedal the Cause is back at the Chesterfield Amphitheater riding for a purpose. Founded in 2010 with the bold model of using 100% of public donations to fund world-class cancer research, Pedal the Cause has quickly become the gateway to curing cancer – all cancers, for everyone. In this period of diminished federal funding where support typically gets funneled to already proven concepts, many potential new ideas are not deemed eligible. Pedal the Cause donations “seed” best-in-breed ideas at our beneficiaries to allow the cultivation of proof of concept and critical data. These seeded projects often turn into groundbreaking results that lead to new treatments and cures, preventions, and early detection diagnostics. Additionally, donations from Pedal the Cause make a positive economic impact in the St. Louis community as stronger research funding will continue to support this high profile and critically important segment of the St. Louis economy. If you can't make the event, please consider donating or supporting the cause in alternate ways

Pedal the Cause has funded 101 cancer research projects since 2010, 73 adult and 29 pediatric.

Henry and Minnie Belle Wardenburg found a life in Chesterfield

By Ann Chrissos

Chesterfield Historic & Landmarks Preservation Committee

Henry William Wardenburg (3 Feb 1885-18 Sept 1962) married Minnie Belle Corless (11 Nov 1896-9 Apr 1985) on 27 December 1915. Minnie was the daughter of John William and Frances Eatherton Corless. On their wedding day, the couple walked through the snow in their wedding finery to the train station in Chesterfield accompanied by Minnie's mother. They traveled by train to St. Louis, where they were married by a Justice of the Peace. Initially, the newlyweds lived in Gumbo. Later, they moved to Pond Road and then to Chesterfield where Henry worked as a section laborer on the railroad. They lived in a Railroad Company house next to the tracks, which is now Breckenridge Materials. Henry and Minnie Belle had five children: Ethel (b. 19 Sept 1916), Edna (b. 12 Oct 1918), Clarence (7 Apr 1921-18 Jan 1968), and Myrtle (b. 2 Oct 1925). All of the children attended Chesterfield School on Wild Horse Creek Road. The family shopped for food in Chesterfield at the Red & White Store owned and operated by Roy and Garnet Glaser. However, they traveled to Wellston to shop for clothes and other necessities. They attended St. Thomas Evangelical & Reformed Church in Gumbo.

Henry's son, Clarence, bought property in the town of Chesterfield from Ralph Biel. He operated a tavern and store which had formerly been the Burkhardt Store and later the Ruppel Store. In 1968, the store caught fire and burned down. Clarence lost his life when he ran into the burning building to rescue the money box. Clarence's brother-in-law and sister, Carl and Myrtle Wardenburg Baker, then purchased the property. They later sold it to Mr. Dorack.

Edna, Henry's daughter, married Kenneth Henry on 29 December 1943. Edna's older sister Ethel married Matthew Bine on 7 June 1947. Clarence married Virginia Saulters on 14 June 1952 and his sister Myrtle married Carl Baker on 25 February 1961.

Henry, Minnie Belle and their son Clarence are buried at Laurel Hill Memorial Gardens in Pagedale, Missouri.
