

Wiegand named Citizen of Year

An internationally acclaimed sculptor is Chesterfield's 2009 Citizen of the Year.

Don Wiegand received the honor from the Chesterfield city Council following recommendations from the Citizens Selection Committee. Mayor John Nations presented Wiegand with the award at the council meeting March 15.

The award recognizes contributions to the City of Chesterfield through volunteerism, working on community projects, and overall civic contributions.

Wiegand's studio is located in the Chesterfield Valley, and The Wiegand Foundation supports numerous charities throughout the area. As one nomination stated,

Chesterfield garden tour grows in popularity

Chesterfield's fourth biennial Garden Tour is scheduled for Saturday, June 12 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., rain or shine.

Organized by the Beautification Committee, this self-guided tour offers six distinctly different residential Chesterfield gardens for a day of inspiration. A variety of gardens are featured this year, each illustrating a phase of gardening, such as dealing with slopes, drainage, full sun, shade, and water features. New to the tour this year are three connecting gardens, which enhance the neighborhood as well as the individual spaces. All gardens are homeowner designed and planted.

Patio tables will be set in some

Mayor's Letter

Recreation opportunities abound in Chesterfield

As I write this, the fields at the Chesterfield Valley Athletic Complex are lit well into the night and are already filled with players as they begin their season of the sport that's synonymous with summer – baseball. People are enjoying walking and biking atop the Levee Trail, and preparations are underway to have the Chesterfield Family Aquatic Center up and running for another busy summer. There's always something to enjoy outdoors in Chesterfield!

Work continues adjacent to Central Park on the amphitheater and on the addition of trails, bridges and a gazebo over the Lake behind the YMCA. The project, which is expected to be completed next spring, is creating a lot of curiosity and excitement among our staff as well as Chesterfield residents. You can read updates and information on the projects on the City's web site by clicking on the City Projects button on the home page.

I was pleased to be able to attend our expanded Earth Day event in April and want to personally invite you to our fifth annual 4th of July event at Chesterfield Mall! This has become one of the best fireworks displays in the region, regularly drawing thousands of people to enjoy the evening with fun events for the kids and musical entertainment for everyone, while being able to conveniently shop at Chesterfield Mall. Another event you won't want to miss is the biennial Garden Tour! The Beautification Committee has worked hard to line up an outstanding group of homeowners who will be sharing their magnificent gardens with you on June 12!

In addition to the Chamber of Commerce's

Concerts in the Park each Tuesday night, be sure to watch a movie on the beautiful Plaza at City Hall in June and July. With family-friendly features such as "Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs" and blockbuster hit "The Blind Side," they will be events to enjoy with family and friends. And it will be a great chance to view the magnificent and stately San Marco II bronze horses placed on the City Hall Plaza in April through a generous private donation to Chesterfield Arts.

The summer in Chesterfield is filled with events and activities we know you will enjoy! Have a great summer!

John Nations, Mayor

If you've just started or are thinking about starting your own business...

Learn to survive & avoid costly mistakes

Register for the Fundamentals of Small Business Program to enhance your success!

Starting a new business is a big investment of time and money and demands special skills and knowledge. It's important to find out early in the process if being a business owner is right for you.

Learn the fundamentals of starting or growing a small business through a 10-week course sponsored by the City of Chesterfield and the Chesterfield Chamber of Commerce. The course is designed to assist new small business owners and those thinking about starting a business by reviewing the basic principles of ownership and operation.

Throughout the course, participants will discuss how to create an effective business and have an opportunity to start creating a business plan or validate an existing one. Other topics include:

- Utilizing cash as a strategic tool
- Handling tax and legal obligations
- Insurance needs
- Negotiating with customers and suppliers
- Managing stress
- Setting business goals
- Financial planning

Participants will also engage in meaningful class discussion with peers. This course will not only teach the fundamentals of starting a small business but will provide opportunities to network and meet other successful small business owners.

The curriculum is written and taught by Richard J. Sacks, developed from his over 25 years of experience as a consultant and lecturer on small business and based on his book, The Twelve Commandments for Small Business: A Practical Guide to Beating the Odds, which has been ranked No.1 among the "Hot New Releases" on Amazon.com and among the highest on the list of paperback books at BarnesAndNoble.com.

The Fundamentals of Small Business Course will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 22, 6-9 p.m., and “Anyone who knows Don recognizes his spirit and generosity to others. His attitude of endless giving is nothing less than inspirational to all who know him.” Another wrote, “Don’s dreams and actions to support his personal mission of giving back to our community have demonstrated so many amazing successes through his personal sacrifices in time and resources.”

Mayor Nations also recognized Wiegand for his involvement in establishing the Spirit of Hope Award. This award is presented annually for outstanding service to the United States and is awarded to men and women of the United States Armed Forces, entertainers and other distinguished Americans and organizations whose patriotism and service reflects that of Bob Hope.

Hope was designated the first honorary veteran of the United States Armed Forces for his decades of entertaining troops, both in peacetime and in combat zones. The honor was bestowed by the U.S. Congress and signed into law by President Clinton. The award is a likeness of Bob Hope that Knock, knock. Who’s there? Go away!

The arrival of nicer weather often means an increase in solicitors – individuals or groups going door-to-door to sell items and services or request donations.

While this activity is legal in Chesterfield, solicitors are required to obtain a license and might have to pay a fee for this license. Charitable organizations are exempt from paying a fee. The issuance of a Solicitor License is not an endorsement, and you should not feel obligated to purchase any product or service.

If someone knocks on your door with something to sell or a cause to promote, you have the right to ask to see their license, which is a one-page document typed on official City of Chesterfield letterhead with the City’s raised seal affixed. If they are unable to do so, you are encouraged to report the person(s) to the Police Department at 636.537.3000 and provide as many details as possible to help the police.

“No Solicitors, No Peddlers” stickers are available free at City Hall, or you can call the Customer Service Center at 636.537.4000 and request that a sticker be mailed to you.

Leash Law

When out walking ol’ Rover, you need a stronger bond than mutual affection.

Please be advised that City Ordinance No. 148 states that every person responsible for a dog, cat or other animal shall keep it from being “at large” as defined in Section 2 of this ordinance. All animals must be kept on a leash or confined in another way.

And, by the way, don’t forget to carry a plastic bag on your walk. You know what for.

Keep in mind Chesterfield law on fireworks

As the Fourth of July approaches, many people will enjoy the holiday with backyard barbecues, swimming, family fun and other summer activities. However, it's important to know that a Chesterfield ordinance has long prohibited individuals from either selling or discharging fireworks, except by permit.

Fireworks can be dangerous and can cause personal injury and property damage. The Chesterfield ordinance pertaining to fireworks reads as follows:

(a) It is unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell, offer for sale, ship or cause to be shipped into the corporate limits of the City of Chesterfield, any item of fireworks. This section applies to nonresidents as well as residents of the City.

(b) Any person possessing or transporting special fireworks into the corporate limits of the City of Chesterfield for the purpose of conducting a special fireworks display shall be licensed by the state fire marshal as a distributor in accordance with Section 320.126 RSMo. 1985, as amended.

(c) Before any permit for a special fireworks display shall be issued by the City Administrator, the fair association, amusement park, organization, firm, or corporation making the application therefore shall furnish proof of financial responsibility to satisfy claims for damages to property or personal injuries arising out of any act or omission on the part of such person, firm or corporation or any agent or employee thereof.

Sec. 13-23. Explosion, ignition, discharge unlawful. It is unlawful for any person to explode, ignite or discharge any articles of fireworks within the corporate limits of the City.

PARKS & RECREATION

Athletic complex wins Field of Excellence Award

Build them, and the awards will come.

Chesterfield constructed its athletic complex to serve the recreational interest of its citizens ... but national recognition is a sweet fringe benefit.

The City of Chesterfield is one of only four municipalities in the United States to win the Field Of Excellence Award, which is presented by Pioneer Paint.

Each of the winning fields displays quality, originality and creativity – criteria of the competition. Each recipient is awarded a Certificate of Recognition and a Field of Excellence banner.

According to Pioneer, excellence in athletic field maintenance often goes unrecognized and unappreciated. The Field of Excellence Award Program honors outstanding athletic fields and their hard-working crews which diligently maintain them.

The Field of Excellence Award Program was established in 1998 and has honored more than 370 fields since its creation.

The City of Chesterfield also won this award in 2007.

PUBLIC WORKS

City gears up annual effort to combat mosquitos

Bzzzzzz ... swat!
 The spraying trucks are out to keep your swats to a minimum. The City has a contract with St. Louis County Department of Health to provide mosquito control services. These services include the treatment of mosquito breeding sites on public land and spraying to control adult mosquitos. Breeding sites will be monitored on a regular basis. The decision to spray for adult mosquitos is primarily based upon mosquito surveillance information and other factors including the human health threat from West Nile virus. Spraying is done in Chesterfield on Sunday nights, beginning in late spring and continuing until the first hard freeze in the fall. Residents who have mosquito complaints can contact Chesterfield City Hall at 636.537.4000 or St. Louis County Health Department directly at 314.727.3097. They will monitor the areas brought to their attention and add to their spraying route as necessary.

Eliminate standing water in places such as ...

- Pool cover that collects water, neglected swimming pool, hot tub or child's wading pool.
- Birdbath (clean weekly) and ornamental pool (stock with fish).
- Any toy, garden equipment or container that can hold water.
- Flat roof without adequate drainage.
- Clogged rain gutter (home and street).
- Leaky faucet or pet bowl (change water daily).
- Uncovered boat or boat cover that collects water.
- Missing, damaged or improperly installed screens.
- Tree rot hole or hollow stump.
- Junk and discarded tires (drill drain holes in bottom of tire swings).

City street improvements are underway

Chesterfield Parkway Medians

The trees have been cut down along the Chesterfield Parkway for a very good reason! The City Council has approved an agreement with St. Louis County to replace and maintain the landscaping in the medians along Chesterfield Parkway West from Olive Boulevard to Fontaine Drive.

Landscaping work began on the medians in April with the removal of trees and shrubs. This is being followed by turf renovation, installation of an automated irrigation system, bed preparation, and addition of top soil.

The next step will be the additions of shrubs, bushes, turf grass and mulch. New trees will be added to the medians this Fall, and the project is expected to be fully complete by the end of this year. Additional information is available under the City Projects tab on the City's main website page, or by entering, <http://www.chesterfield.mo.us/medians.html>

2010 Concrete Slab Replacement

As directed by City Council, city staff has identified residential streets in need of repair throughout the City. In addition to maintenance performed by City crews, two residential street slab replacement projects are expected to be completed this year. Plans call for 40,000 square yards of concrete slabs to be replaced on 11 residential streets. Residents adjacent to the planned replacement areas along with subdivision trustees received project notification by mail.

Streets scheduled for slab replacement

Boxford Court	New Bedford Court	Carriage Crossing Lane
Schoettler Valley Dr.	Fairway Bend	Stillhouse Creek Road
Greenstone Drive	Wethersfield Terrace Ct.	Markham Lane
Woodlet Way Drive	Marmont Drive

Slab replacement began in May and will extend into the Fall. Residents will be notified before work begins on their streets. Additional information is available under the City Projects tab located on the City's main website page.

POLICE DEPARTMENT NEWS

Chesterfield police department is seeking volunteers for emergency training

Beginning in September, the Chesterfield Police Department and Monarch Fire Protection District will co-host another 24-hour Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training program. The CERT program provides an effective first-responder capability with the aid of citizen involvement. Acting as individuals or in teams during a disaster, trained CERT volunteers can fan out within a particular neighborhood or business complex extinguishing small fires, performing light search and rescue and rendering basic first aid for disaster victims. Individual civilian volunteers will be recruited and trained as neighborhood, business, and government teams that, in essence, will be auxiliary first responders. These groups can provide immediate assistance to victims in their area, organize spontaneous untrained volunteers, and collect disaster intelligence that will assist professional responders with prioritization and allocation of resources following a disaster. CERT is a positive and realistic approach to emergency and disaster situations where citizens can make a difference. The training will be on Wednesday evenings 6 -10 p.m., Sept. 15-Oct. 20. For further details or registration, contact Chesterfield Police Capt. W. Graham Burnley at 636-537-3000 or gburnley@chesterfield.mo.us. Information is also available on the City of Chesterfield web site.

CITIZEN COMMITTEES

Alliance for Positive Youth

The Chesterfield Police Department in partnership with the Chesterfield Alliance for Positive Youth (CAPY) had a very successful Medication Take Back event at Earth Day. 2,468 containers of medication were collected from 153 individuals, helping keep the meds out of landfills and water systems, along with ensuring they are not used improperly by others.

BEE Thankful for Pollinators!

National Pollinator Week is June 21-27!

Three fourths of plants grown worldwide for food, beverages, fibers, condiments, spices and medicines are made possible by the services of pollinators – bees, flies, beetles, wasps, ants, butterflies, moths, birds, among others.

Without pollinators, many agricultural products would be reduced in quantity and quality, or be unavailable. Wildlife depends on pollinators to maintain native plant life for food and habitat.

National Pollinator Week aims to recognize our valuable living resources, as well as encourage pollinator-friendly conservation practices.

Help protect pollinators by planting a garden using plants that are native to Missouri. More information on these plants can be found at www.grownative.org, www.plantsofmerit.org, www.pollinator.org, and www.nwf.org/gardenersguide.

Sustainable Gardening Practices

There are many easy ways to help the environment through gardening and to be recognized by the City for those efforts.

- Plant a native tree. www.arborday.org
- Compost yardwaste.
- Plant native wildflowers. www.grownative.org and www.plantsofmerit.org
- Conserve water and install a rain barrel.
- Encourage pollinators by eliminating chemicals in your garden.

Do you qualify?

If you are already doing these things, contact the City to find out if you qualify for a Signature Garden award or to be recognized by the National Wildlife Federation. While there are many native habitat gardens throughout our city, there are now 14 Signature Gardens in Chesterfield! Families, businesses, subdivision trustees and public places qualify.

Included are Brontoscorpio, a meter-long scorpion that shared its environment with giant cockroaches that were over a foot long; the enormous dragonfly, Meganeura; and giant millipede, Arthropleura, which thrived during the Pennsylvanian Period about 300 million years ago. Also on display is the largest arthropod presently known, Pterygotus, a ferocious ten-foot-long sea scorpion from the Silurian Period.

There is no charge for Missouri Botanical Garden members and for children age 2 and under.

Giant scorpions are part of the exhibit, but don't worry. They aren't real.

Chesterfield Earth Day draws many participants, near-record collections

The Chesterfield Citizens Committee for the Environment hosted an expanded Earth Day event April 24, collecting near-record amounts of recyclables and having a record number of vendors.

28 tons of electronics and equipment were recycled, and 1,820 pounds of books were collected. Kids enjoyed various activities to help the environment, and vendors sold earth-friendly products.

The City of Chesterfield received its 13th Annual Tree City USA Designation and was recognized by the National Environmental Hall of Fame.

Chamber free concerts spice summer Tuesdays

Free concerts are the order of the day on Tuesdays this summer as the Chesterfield Chamber of Commerce plays host to music fans in Faust Park.

COMMUNITY NEWS & NOTES

The famous equine sculpture that once adorned the lobby of the Adam’s Mark Hotel (now Hyatt Regency) in downtown St. Louis has been coralled in Chesterfield. The high-stepping, twin-horse statues now greet visitors at Chesterfield City Hall. The sculpture, entitled “San Marco II” by artist Ludovico De Luigi, was donated to Chesterfield Arts and unveiled to the public at a ceremony on April 22. . . .

Chesterfield Arts’ summer camps for all ages are gearing up in June and July. Pre-k and kindergartners can enjoy painting and drawing landscapes; third-fifth graders explore recycled art; adults create their own wearable art or making a quilt top with fused fabrics. Summer camps begin June 7. . . .

Chesterfield Writers Guild’s 2nd annual Scrabble Mania is July 23 at 7 p.m. in the Gallery at Chesterfield Arts, 444 Chesterfield Center. Call to register at 636.519.1955. Entry is $15 for an individual, $40 for a team of four players. . . .

See innovative ceramic works by local artist Dawson Morgan in a gallery exhibit, Illuminated Forms, opening June 18 from 6-9 p.m. with a free reception. . . .

On Aug. 27, sip on margaritas and enjoy the familiar sounds of Jimmy Buffet, performed by cover artist Gary Sluhan. $25 includes dessert and a cocktail for this Fridays Uncorked event.

For more information about classes, programming or tickets, visit www.chesterfieldarts.org or call 636.519.1955. . . .

The Tony Award-winning Big River: The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn runs through June 27 at STAGES St. Louis at the 384-seat Robert G. Reim theatre in Kirkwood.
